

BIRDING FESTIVAL

MAY 24-26 FREEPORT, MAINE

PRESENTED BY

L.L.Bean | MAINE AUDUBON

Bring the whole flock for a weekend filled with family-friendly events and activities for birders of all skill levels, interests and ages.

GUIDED OUTINGS

Visit llbean.com/birding for directions

Transportation is not available for these events. Please meet at the specified locations. Sorry, pets are not allowed on outings.

SATURDAY & SUNDAY • MAY 25-26

7-9 a.m. Florida Lake Outing

Local birding experts will guide you through this Freeport park, an excellent habitat for waterfowl and over 150 species of birds, including swallows, warblers, heron, osprey and scarlet tanagers.

7-9 a.m. Pettengill Farm Birding Outing

Join local birding experts at this 19th-century saltwater farm, located on the estuary of the Harraseeket River. We identified 52 songbirds and shorebirds during previous outings, including snowy egret, chestnut-sided warbler, bobolink and indigo bunting.

SATURDAY • MAY 25 ONLY

9-10 a.m. Children's Bird Walk at Pettengill Farm

A shorter, easier bird walk designed for young birdwatchers, led by birding expert, author and educator, Laura Erickson.

3-5 p.m. Wolfe's Neck Center Outing

Join local birding experts on this waterfront farm, where you'll hike along salt marshes and riverbanks in search of wading birds, seabirds and songbirds. Follow signs to the meeting location.

7-8:30 p.m. Bat & Owl Prowl at Mast Landing Sanctuary

Maine Audubon staff naturalist Doug Hitchcox will lead this nighttime tour, using special acoustic equipment to help you look and listen for bats, barred owls, ovenbirds, hermit thrush and more.

SUNDAY • MAY 26 ONLY

3-5 p.m. Tidebrook Birding Outing

This very special 44-acre site, managed by the Freeport Conservation Trust, is located at the end of a peninsula that features diverse habitats, including spectacular shoreline on the Harraseeket River. A new addition to this year's festival, we're excited to see what species we can identify.

Featured Guest Speaker
LAURA ERICKSON

FRIDAY, MAY 24 • 7-8 p.m.

CLOSE ENCOUNTERS OF THE BIRD KIND

Camping Atrium,
L.L.Bean Flagship Store

At times hilarious, heartbreaking and uplifting, Laura recounts her experiences with various bird species during her time as a federal- and state-licensed wildlife rehabilitator, and how different wild birds deal with temporary captivity in their own special ways.

LAURA ERICKSON has been a scientist, teacher, writer, wildlife rehabilitator, professional blogger, public speaker, photographer and Science Editor at the Cornell Lab of Ornithology. She has written eleven books about birds and has been producing the long-running "For the Birds" radio program for public radio since 1986 – and more recently as a podcast available on iTunes. In 2014, Laura was honored as a recipient of the American Birding Association's prestigious Roger Tory Peterson Award for her contributions to the advancement of the cause of birding.

MONHEGAN ISLAND BIRDING HIKE, $159

SATURDAY, MAY 25 • 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Experience a unique view into bird migration, as you hike along the highest ocean bluffs on the New England coastline. Located 12 miles off the mainland, Monhegan Island is among the nation's most stunning places and a premier birding destination. Its small size and isolated location, home to acres of protected forests and marshes, provide a welcome respite for migrating birds. Cost of outing includes parking fee, ferry admission and a picnic lunch. Participants should arrive at the ferry in New Harbor by 8 a.m.

Space is limited – advance registration is required.
