

L.L.Bean Private Maine Adventure Trip

If you are considering booking a private overnight or multiday trip with Outdoor Discovery Programs, there are a few questions that will be helpful to consider before calling our Adventure Consultants. It is not necessary to have this questionnaire completely filled out before calling us; however, being familiar with these questions will help prepare you for some of the questions we'll be asking when you do contact us.

What Type of Trip?

We can offer either a private departure of one of our existing trips or a trip with a custom itinerary. Details listed below:

Private Departure of Existing Trip

A very easy way to schedule a private trip is to look at the trips we currently offer. If you find one that fits what you are looking for, call us to coordinate a private departure of that trip specifically for your group.

Custom-Designed Trip

If you are looking for a trip that is different than something we already provide, we'd be happy to work with you to create your own custom itinerary. Below is a list of some information we will be asking for to start our proposed trip plan:

- Desired activity (kayak, mountain biking, hiking, etc.)
- Desired activity level (easy, moderate, strenuous)
- Desired destination (such as a region or specific areas, sites, etc.)
- Total length of trip
- Accommodation type (camping, hotels, cabins)

Other Information

Regardless of which trip type you are looking for, below is some additional information we will be asking you about:

- What dates or timeframe are you looking to travel with us?
- What is the size of your group?
- What is the age profile of your group?
- What is your budget (either total trip cost or per person cost)?
